

Dr. Filippos Palamidas

Senior Consultant Respiratory Medicine
Director of the Respiratory Department
Head of Interventional Pulmonology Dept

He was born in Athens in 1951. He graduated Thessaloniki's Medical School in 1977. He was a respiratory medicine resident and special registrar until 1983 when he was awarded with the respiratory medicine specialty in Sismanoglion Athens General Hospital. He was a faculty member of the Lung Function lab at Laikon Hospital for a year and later he worked as a consultant physician in Sismanoglion Respiratory Department. He was specialized in Interventional Pulmonology at the Foch Hospital in Paris under Dr Personne and in st Margarite hospital in Marseille under Dr Dumon. From 2003 he is the senior consultant and the scientific director of the Athens Medical Center interventional Pulmonology department and Respiratory Department .